

INDOT Geotechnical Drilling and Sampling Requirements

This work type consists of geotechnical drilling and sampling. All work shall be performed in accordance with the INDOT Geotechnical Manual, INDOT Aquifer Protection Guidelines, FHWA, AASHTO guidelines, and all other pertinent state and federal regulations. Geotechnical consultants must follow all the INDOT requirements which include, but are not limited to permitting, utility clearance, safety, and backfilling.

Requirements:

Licensure:

Indiana Well Driller license required.

Certification:

Equipment operators must meet the Indiana Commercial Driver's requirements.

Experience:

Qualifying drillers must have experience with INDOT geotechnical drilling and sampling techniques.

Qualifying driller must demonstrate experience in the following:

- (a) Geotechnical drilling operations
- (b) Sampling
- (c) Instrument installation
- (d) Borehole logging.

INDOT may require additional supporting documents upon request.

Equipment:

Drill rig shall be owned or leased by company. Leased agreement should be submitted upon request.